One time in the jungle, there lived a zebra named Ally. She loved to explore and play. One day she asked her parents, “Can I go outside and visit my friends?” they replied, “You can’t go visit your friends because I heard that a lion has been trying to capture zebras. No one knows why. And it is way too late for you to be outside.”
The next morning, when Ally woke up, she heard a terrible scream coming from outside her window. When she looked out her window, she saw a humongous lion chasing two little zebras. She ran outside and let the zebras come into her house so the lion wouldn’t catch them. The lion was pounding on the door as hard as he could and Ally was scared so she ran into her mother’s room and yelled “Mom, there is a lion trying to tear down our door!”
As soon as Ally’s mother heard that there was a huge lion trying to break down the door, she got the zebras that the lion was trying to catch and ran into the basement. When they finally heard the pounding stop, they went back upstairs to see if the lion was still there. He was crying outside their door.
The mother went to see what was wrong with the lion and the lion said, “I just wanted to play with the zebras because I am so lonely all the time. I don’t have any friends.” Then the zebra’s mother said “I think I know the perfect friend for you. Come with me.” They went inside her house and introduced Ally to the lion. The zebra mother said, “Ally, this is Leo the lion.”
The lion said, “You are the first friend I have ever had. Everyone thought that I was a bully.” “I am so sorry. I will always be your friend and play with you whenever I can.” Ally said. The lion was so happy! He said, “Thank you so much for being my friend! Do you want to play tag?” “Sure” Ally said. They ran outside and played all day.

The End!!!!!!!!!!!!!!
