The Grumpy Koala

By: Charles W.
Once upon a time, there was a koala named Charles. He liked to climb trees to eat the leaves.
Charles was a grumpy koala.
He ate at the tippy top of the tree and would not talk to the other koalas.
The poacher captured Charles while the other koalas hid. “Help me!” he cried.
The other koalas jumped into action and then he was saved.
From then on, Charles was friends with the other koalas and was no longer grumpy.
