The KET PBS KIDS channel is here! This new, educational 24/7 children’s service includes free, full-time children’s programming available on air, on mobile, and online.

The channel is available statewide through KET’s over-the-air broadcast network, on cable systems, and via livestream at KET.org/kids, pbskids.org, and on the PBS KIDS Video App – 24 hours a day.

Research confirms that PBS KIDS content helps children build critical skills that enable them to find success in school and in life, while also helping parents increase their own engagement.

As you know well, technology has dramatically changed classrooms — even in just the last decade. Computers, smartboards, and tablets have become an ever-more integral part of instruction. But these are just devices. It’s the content a teacher chooses — to demonstrate a concept, to engage student involvement, to appeal to varying learning styles — that ultimately makes technology effective and enhances learning.

That is why we’re dedicated to creating and delivering the highest quality, standards-based resources.

From being a leading content producer for PBS LearningMedia to providing entire distance learning courses through our Online Campus, KET ensures schools throughout Kentucky have equal access to proven, dynamic content and classroom instruction.

As KET approaches its 50th anniversary, it makes me proud to know that serving the needs of students and educators remains a pillar of our mission.

Our staff of teachers, content producers, and in-the-field education consultants are committed to ensuring educators across Kentucky have easy access to the resources they need to bring learning to life every day.

I hope this will be a safe, happy, and successful year for you and your students. As always, we are deeply appreciative of your work to educate young Kentuckians and honored to be your trusted classroom partner.

Partners in Education

Looking back at my first year as Senior Director of Education, I’m reminded of how proud I am to lead the education team here at KET. Because of the high quality resources and trainings we provide, teachers are more prepared to engage students with innovative classroom instruction.

As we move into the 2017-18 school year, look for new resources to amp up instruction in world languages, media arts, and early education. To learn more, please contact your education consultant to schedule a visit or an onsite workshop.

At KET, we’re honored to be a trusted partner, bringing together Kentuckians to better prepare students for school and life.

Overview

KET: Your partner in blended learning

KET resources and services encourage critical thinking, creativity, communication, and collaboration in schools throughout Kentucky. These online resources and face-to-face workshops and consultations are designed to help create effective learning environments for you and your students.

EXPLORE OUR RICH COLLECTION OF DIGITAL RESOURCES.

PBS LearningMedia is your gateway to thousands of videos, images, and other classroom materials. Its high-quality multimedia resources are targeted to students and teachers from early childhood through adult education.

SAMPLE OUR OUTSTANDING ONLINE PROFESSIONAL DEVELOPMENT.

KET partners with the Kentucky Department of Education and other organizations to offer standards-based professional development to fit your needs and schedule.

ENROLL STUDENTS IN ONLINE CAMPUS COURSES.

KET courses in Chinese, German, Latin, Spanish, and arts and humanities as well as the Virtual Physics Labs provide engaging, rigorous learning experiences. Visit KET.org/onlinecampus to learn more about Online Campus.

PARTICIPATE IN HANDS-ON WORKSHOPS FOR TEACHERS AND STUDENTS.

The KET Media Lab in Lexington provides year-round training in technology resources, multimedia production, and more. Add to that the yearly KET Multimedia PD Day plus onsite workshops and presentations, and you’ll find that KET is always ready to help you master the new blended learning environment.

DISCOVERY EDUCATION

As of June 30, 2017, schools using Discovery Education content under the KDE/KET contract will no longer have rights to continue using these assets. To assist with the transition, KET is providing a resource crosswalk PDF. It lists the resources most often accessed and links to comparable resources in PBS LearningMedia. Visit KET.org/pbslearningmedia to learn more.
KET, along with other public broadcasters nationwide, is a contributing partner in PBS LearningMedia, a free, searchable repository of over 100,000 high-quality classroom and professional development resources, all aligned with content standards. Other contributors include NASA, the National Archives, and the Library of Congress.

PBS LearningMedia is available to public and private schools, colleges and universities, homeschoolers, and educational agencies and organizations.

Go to KET.org/pbslearningmedia to select and register your PBS LearningMedia name and password. Once you’re logged in, search for resources by keyword, content area, grade level, and standard. You can also find professional learning resources and courses, and your students now have a safe learning portal where they can investigate at their own pace.

Tools for Teachers on PBS LearningMedia

Digital productivity tools make it easier than ever for teachers to connect students with curriculum concepts. Lesson Builder, Quiz Maker, Puzzle Builder, and Storyboard tools offer dynamic opportunities to personalize learning experiences while supporting a range of learning styles.

- Lesson Builder: Create and assign interactive lessons that can be used in class or as homework.
- Quiz Maker: Enhance lessons with personalized quizzes that test students’ understanding of key concepts.
- Puzzle Builder: Create and assign interactive crossword puzzles and word searches to improve vocabulary.
- Storyboard: Illustrate complex concepts by designing interactive web pages using resources, graphics, and images from PBS LearningMedia as well as other multimedia resources.

PBS LearningMedia Expands for Kentucky Educators

The popular online learning resource, made available in Kentucky through KET in partnership with the Kentucky Department of Education, has recently expanded to provide even more quality content to Kentucky educators. The enhanced content includes more than 6,000 full episodes of popular PBS series such as Liberty’s Kids, Cyberchase, Nature, NOVA, and documentaries from Ken Burns.
Multimedia Training and Workshops

To learn about KET multimedia resources or using technology in the classroom, set up a free workshop at the KET Media Lab in Lexington or arrange a workshop at your school.

KET’s standards-based workshops are approved by the Kentucky Department of Education for professional development credit and usually for EILA credit.

KET MEDIA LAB WORKSHOPS

Thanks to a grant from the Kentucky Department of Education, KET is offering travel reimbursement for media arts workshops at the KET Media Lab during the 2017-2018 school year.

With KET Media Lab workshops you can build skills in video production and editing; explore using iPads, iPhones, and apps to make classroom multimedia projects; introduce students to Minecraft; and find out about KET’s numerous online classroom resources for teaching media arts.

You can also combine a student workshop with a KET tour. For more information, visit the Media Lab website at KET.org/medialab.

IN-SCHOOL WORKSHOPS

KET education consultants are ready to visit your school and present FREE workshops on our instructional resources, all designed to help your students reach proficiency.

Workshops include effective use of KET resources, PBS LearningMedia, and video production. KET education consultants will also create workshops targeted to your specific needs.

To schedule a workshop, contact your regional education consultant. See page 3 for details.

KET MULTIMEDIA PROFESSIONAL DEVELOPMENT DAY

Every summer, KET hosts an event for educators interested in learning more about multimedia. Participants can attend up to four workshops on video production, digital storytelling, software applications, and more.

Look for information about registering for the 2018 KET Multimedia PD Day at KET.org/education beginning in April 2018.

VIDEO PRODUCTION: BEHIND THE SCENES WITH THE PROS

Audience: Grades 4-12
KET.pbslearningmedia.org/collection/video-production-behind-the-scenes-with-the-pros/

In this new collection on PBS LearningMedia, members of KET’s video production team describe the production process, explain the skills required for each role, and give tips to successfully produce a video.

These learning objects provide students with the tools to develop and create video projects across the curriculum and at all levels. Participants will learn about techniques, basic equipment needs, roles, and careers.

THE CAT IN THE HAT (PreK)
Preschoolers learn about the natural world with videos and games centered around the Cat and six-year-old Sally and Nick.

WILD KRATTS (Grades 1-3)
This series and website take students on adventures with the Kratt Brothers to learn about wild animals in habitats around the world.

PBS KIDS AUTISM RESOURCES

THOMAS & FRIENDS AUTISM COLLECTION
KET.pblearningmedia.org/collection/thomasandfriends/
This collection helps educators support the development of impulse control, flexibility, problem solving, and emotional regulation, while also tapping into strengths and interests.

SESAME STREET: SEE AMAZING IN ALL CHILDREN
autism.sesamestreet.org/
This initiative offers families ways to manage common challenges, to simplify everyday activities, and to grow connections and support from family, friends, and community.
When you think of KET and early childhood, you probably think of Sesame Street and other engaging, imaginative on-air programming. Designed to boost cognitive, social, emotional, and physical development, these series often have accompanying websites with video, interactive games, hands-on activities, and more. For details see page 11 or visit KET.org/kidsandfamilies.

But KET offers much more! KET-produced resources enhance learning in the early childhood classroom and provide both online and customized in-person professional development opportunities.

Child Care Training

KET’s child care training program helps early childhood education professionals earn credit toward annual training requirements. For a small administrative fee, participants have the option to earn credit by taking online courses, by borrowing videos from their local library to complete coursework, or by purchasing videos to complete coursework.

For a list of courses, visit the KET child care training website at KET.org/education/resources/child-care-training/.

Resources for Teachers & Child Care Providers

Ready to Learn

Grade Levels: Preschool-3

KET.pbslearningmedia.org/readytolearn/

This collection features content from the Ready to Learn 2015-2020 Initiative and lets parents and educators get a first look at the newest games and research results from PBS Kids. Visit regularly to see what’s new with beloved characters like Curious George, the Cat in the Hat, Buddy from Dinosaur Train, and more.

PBS KIDS Learn

Grade Levels: Preschool-3

pbskids.org/learn/

The PBS KIDS Learn website is designed to help educators make the most of PBS KIDS and support children’s learning every day. It features in-depth learning resources from favorites like Ready Jet Go!, Nature Cat, Peg + Cat, Odd Squad, ScratchJr, and When Something Scary Happens.

For more information about any of these early childhood resources, contact Amanda Wright at (800) 432-0951 ext. 7258, (859) 258-7258, or awright@ket.org.
Everyday Learning

Grade Levels: Preschool-1
KET.pbslearningmedia.org/collection/everyday-learning/

Comprised of resources from Everyday Science for Preschoolers, Everyday Math for Preschoolers, Healthy Me, All Around Me, and Art to Heart, this collection gives educators easy access to short videos and interactives created especially for the youngest students. For more information see Everyday Science on page 24, Everyday Math on page 21, Healthy Me on page 22, All Around Me on page 27, and Art to Heart on page 15.

Everyday Learning Toolkits

Everyday Science for Preschoolers, Healthy Me, All Around Me, and Everyday Math for Preschoolers toolkits were developed through the efforts of an advisory council of early childhood professionals and are linked to the Kentucky Early Childhood Standards.

The toolkits include hands-on activities, videos, interactives, book lists, vocabulary words, and online resources.

Everyday Learning Workshops

KET provides in-depth, face-to-face training for early childhood educators on the effective use of Everyday Learning toolkits. Teachers can also learn to incorporate a variety of arts activities in an Art to Heart workshop.

CPB-PBS Ready to Learn Transmedia Centers

The PBS Transmedia Centers are funded through a Ready to Learn grant from the Corporation for Public Broadcasting (CPB) and the U.S. Department of Education. The centers include mobile devices that offer an opportunity to use technology effectively in school, at home, and at play.

Children get hands-on experience with PBS Kids apps that help develop early math, science, and literacy skills. Teacher trainings focus on how Ready to Learn materials can be used effectively in the classroom.
Do your students have a story to tell? KET wants to hear it! Each spring, the KET Young Writers Contest encourages children to submit stories and poems for a statewide competition.

There are three categories: illustrated stories, grades K-3; short stories, grades 4-5; and poetry, grades 6-8. All students receive a certificate for participation, and the winners are recognized with backpacks filled with goodies. Winning submissions are also published on KET’s website.

Check out previous winners at KET.org/writerscontest, and look for contest guidelines in February 2018.

An ideal way to engage students in learning is through video projects. The KET School Video Project encourages Kentucky K-12 students to give video production a try. Submit school news programs, documentaries, art or music videos, PSAs—the only limit is your students’ imaginations!

KET also offers students a video challenge complete with prize drawings several times a year. Past projects have focused on digital citizenship, student health, and the environment.

Getting videos on KET’s website is easy. When a video is uploaded to the site, KET checks technical quality and content. When they’re approved, videos can be viewed online and shared with friends, family, and schools.

Online learning comes alive with KET’s high-quality, media-rich courses!

KET courses feature customized calendars that correspond to individual school calendars so that schools can enroll single students, small groups, or entire classes. Our teachers offer direct instruction and assistance by phone, email, and in online meeting rooms.

Courses require Internet access and an onsite facilitator. In Kentucky, tuition is $100 per student, per course, plus any materials, dual credit, and lab fees. If 20 or more students from the same school are registered, the tuition is $100 per student for the first 19 and $50 for each additional student.

All courses are now available for dual high school and college credit through Morehead State University’s Early College program for qualifying juniors and seniors. Call KET Online Campus at (800) 333-9764 for information.

KET ONLINE CAMPUS COURSES

- Arts in Culture: History and Performance of Visual and Performing Arts
- Mandarin Chinese I and II
- German I, II, and III
- Latin I, II, III, IV, and AP® Latin
- Spanish I and II

REGISTRATION INFORMATION

Schools and homeschools can register students directly through KET. Visit KET.org/onlinecampus, or call Linda Hofacker at (800) 333-9764.

Arts in Culture: History and Appreciation of Visual and Performing Arts

Students learn about the interrelationships among dance, drama, visual arts, and music in this writing-intensive course featuring an engaging mix of original readings, reflective prompts, video, images, podcasts, activities, and personal feedback.

Mandarin Chinese I and II

Diverse activities designed with a variety of learning styles in mind allow students to read, write, speak, and listen to Chinese. Students also practice simple grammatical structures and receive lessons in culture to help them understand the context of the language.

Because Mandarin Chinese I and II are so challenging, KET recommends that students take the courses over a full year. However, with instructor permission, motivated students can take the courses on a block schedule.

German I, II, and III

KET’s German students are part of a lively community and are provided opportunities to speak, read, listen, and create projects in German and to collaborate with other students in Kentucky and across the globe.

Instructional formats, including video, podcasts, and social media are organized into self-paced modules. All courses are available in block and full-year versions.
DUAL CREDIT OPTIONS

KET is partnering with Morehead State University to offer dual credit options for several online learning courses through Morehead’s Early College program. This program offers students the opportunity to earn three hours of college credit upon the successful completion of their course. Public colleges and universities in Kentucky have agreements in place to make it easy to transfer college credits. For more information visit KET.org/onlinecampus.

Latin I, II, III, IV, and AP® Latin

Learning Latin helps students decode English words and prepares them for other world languages. In addition, it often improves students’ performance on standardized achievement tests.

The KET instructor, aided by college- and graduate-level tutors, communicates with students by phone, and in virtual learning environments. Courses are structured around engaging video instruction and use a variety of other formats, including mnemonic devices and podcasts. All are available in block and full-year versions.

Spanish I and II

Spanish I and II introduce students to the language through common expressions, vocabulary, and grammar. Students practice speaking, reading, listening, and writing in Spanish and have opportunities for authentic conversation with a tutor.

The KET instructor and tutors incorporate cultural traditions, practices, and perspectives of the Spanish-speaking world in lessons.

Virtual Physics Labs

Virtual Physics Labs are stand-alone resources that simulate and extend real lab apparatus. The labs investigate 21 topics ranging from velocity and dynamics to pendulums and harmonic motion.

In Kentucky, the Virtual Physics Labs are available for an annual subscription fee of $60 per high school. The fee includes unlimited student passwords. The cost for colleges and universities is $100 per department, plus $5 per student.
Earn professional development credit at your own pace with KET’s user-friendly online courses offered through a collaboration with the Kentucky Department of Education.

All KET courses feature video segments, interactive activities, reflection questions, resources for more exploration, and quizzes; and most are free.

These courses can also be used by professional learning communities and integrated, in whole or in part, into facilitated group sessions.

Self-Paced Courses on PBS TeacherLine

Audience: P-12 educators and preservice teachers
KET.pbslearningmedia.org/collection/ket-k-12-professional-development/

This collection provides links to free KET-produced self-paced courses in one convenient location.

See More Self-Paced Courses on PBS TeacherLine on page 33 for available courses, which include professional development for both P-12 and adult educators.

Promoting Positive Behavior in Schools I, II, & III

Audience: P-12 educators and personnel
KET.pbslearningmedia.org/collection/positive-behavior-in-schools/

Learn how to prevent, decrease, or eliminate problem behavior through positive discipline strategies and systems in these free PBS TeacherLine courses produced by KET and the Kentucky Department of Education.

The three courses include PBIS I: Introduction to Schoolwide Behavior Systems, PBIS II: Districtwide Implementation, and PBIS III: Bullying Prevention.

All three courses were developed in response to Kentucky Law 704 KAR 7:160 requiring all school personnel to have annual training in positive behavior supports and interventions.* They offer strategies for improving student behavior, demonstrated through scenarios, and feature authentic classroom video highlighting best practices.

*While there is no requirement for districts to use this specific training, it satisfies the requirements of the regulation and is free to districts.
Classroom Video Production

Audience: P-12 educators and preservice teachers
KET.pbslearningmedia.org/collection/ket-k-12-professional-development/

This introductory course provides teachers with the tools needed to facilitate student video production across the curriculum.

Topics include video production techniques, basic equipment, production roles, and careers. Throughout the course, fellow teachers and the KET production team will inspire you to initiate student video projects.

- Characteristics of Highly Effective Teaching and Learning

Many early childhood training courses can be found at KET.org/education/resources/child-care-training/. See page 12 for details.
In today’s world, a high school diploma is not enough. But what if you don’t even have a high school diploma? As public media’s leading provider of adult education services, KET can help Kentuckians meet and overcome this challenge.

Dropping Back In

Audience: Grades 6-adult
droppingbackin.org/

Every community in America faces the challenges of adult dropouts and the need to improve college and career readiness. In these five KET-produced documentaries, meet some of America’s dropouts, understand the issues they face, and learn about the people and institutions helping them find their way back.

FastForward

Audience: Grades 9-adult
ketfastforward.org

Current high school equivalency assessments reflect more rigorous high school and college/career readiness standards. To prepare learners, KET presents FastForward—a comprehensive online system that offers in-depth courses in language arts, mathematics, science, and social studies; professional development for educators; and more. It can be used to supplement classroom instruction or in independent study.

Two new workbook and eBook series are now available. The FastForward Basics series builds a foundation for higher-level study. Pretests help learners assess their skills, and practice exercises throughout the chapter give opportunities to check learning gains.

Skills for Success workbooks and eBooks focus on the skills needed to freshen up before taking a high school equivalency exam.

Work Ready Resources

Audience: Grades 9-adult
KET.pbslearningmedia.org/collection/workready/
